

UnicodeChecker

Services Menu

If you are using UnicodeChecker for the first time you need to put UnicodeChecker in one of the "Applications" folders (or subfolders) on your system and log out and back in again in order for the services to be available.

If you have been using an earlier version (pre 1.5.2) of UnicodeChecker before, please note that several entries in the "Services" menu have changed their menu item name since UnicodeChecker 1.5.2. In order to update the "Services" menu you need to log out of your account and log in again. (Of course, UnicodeChecker needs to be in one of the "Applications" folders for the services to be available.)

Otherwise UnicodeChecker may behave unexpectedly when using some of the services.

UnicodeChecker 1.5.6 introduces two new "Services": Adding and replacing UTF-8 percent escapes (à la "%20") for use in URLs.

More Information

More information on the features of UnicodeChecker is available from UnicodeChecker's Help menu.
