Altering Buttons, Labels and Messages

Why alter Buttons, Labels and Messages

The ability to alter, exchange or re-label any or all of the hard written elements of EROL means that your store can be customised to suit your exact requirements – whether it means changing the language of your store, the look and feel or the tone of the messages.

Changing HTML buttons to your own graphical buttons

In EROL, all standard grey HTML buttons can be replaced with your own pre-created graphical buttons, including a rollover effect.

To replace a standard button with your own,

1. Create the graphical button in your favourite graphics package (if required, you can also create a rollover effect for the button too)
2. Select Tools > Options... from the main EROL toolbar
3. Click on the 'Buttons' button
4. From the list, find the button you wish to replace
5. Check the 'Use Image' checkbox
6. Browse for your pre-created button
7. If necessary, browse for the rollover state (leave blank if no rollover is required)
8. Click 'Save and Close' to commit your changes

Re-labelling buttons

In EROL, the text on all standard grey HTML buttons can be re-labelled to suit your language or store style.

To re-label a standard button,

1. Select Tools > Options... from the main EROL toolbar
2. Click on the 'Labels' button
3. From the list of buttons, find the button you wish to re-label
4. Edit the label field to reflect your choice of label
5. Click 'Save and Close' to commit your changes

Changing the labels on the Order Form

The EROL order form has the largest area of hard written text and labels. In EROL you can alter this to suit your language or store style.

To re-label the order form text and labels,

1. Select Tools > Options... from the main EROL toolbar
2. Click on the 'Labels' button
3. From the list, find the text or label you wish to edit
4. Edit the label field accordingly
5. Click 'Save and Close' to commit your changes

Re-wording the warning and pop-up messages

Various areas in an EROL store can cause a pop-up message to be launched when activated by the user. E.g. If a customer decides to delete a product from the order form, a message will pop-up urging the customer to confirm their request. In EROL you can alter these messages to suit your language or store style.

To re-word the pop-up messages,

1. Select Tools > Options... from the main EROL toolbar
2. Click on the 'Messages' button
3. From the list, find the message you wish to reword
4. Re-word the contents of the field accordingly
5. Click 'Save and Close' to commit your changes
