Nova Second Edition for NeXT Computers now available.

Walnut Creek, Calif., January 1, 1994 - Finally it's here the much awaited update to the Nova CDROM for NeXT computers. Walnut Creek CDROM is proud to announce the immediate availability of the Nova CDROM Second Edition.

This new totally revised edition of the Nova will give you more applications, more source code, more fun and information. On this disc you will find more than 600 MB of files including a large selection of public domain and shareware applications. The NEXTSTEP programmer will be happy to note that the Nova contains more source code than ever before which also includes many Interface Builder palette's which are ready to integrate into your own applications.

The NEXTSTEP community has made what the Nova is today. The quality of the applications found on this disc is a good reflection of the talent and expertise that the NEXTSTEP community represents. Walnut Creek CDROM would like to thank the NEXTSTEP community for making the Nova a success.

Nova Second Edition is available immediately from Walnut Creek CDROM at a retail price of $59.95.
