

Advanced Effect Maker Freeware Edition

Version 1.0 Release Notes

Running the software

Advanced Effect Maker is a Java application built for Java 1.4. If you have problems running the software. Then Make sure you install the Java Runtime Environment 1.4 (JRE 1.4) after or before this installation. The software will NOT work without it.

Please download the JRE 1.4 from the following site:

<http://www.java.com/> (Where it states "Download Java Software".)

If you have Java SDK 1.4 that will also work. Those of you that have Java 1.3 or earlier, have to upgrade to version 1.4 for the software to work.

Important Note! Although the authoring environment needs Java 1.4, the effects generated by this software does NOT require Java, since they use Macromedia Flash or JavaScript technology! You should use Internet Explorer or Netscape with the Flash Player 5 (or later) plugin installed. Make sure you have enabled JavaScript and Active-X objects on your browser. The default installation will always have this enabled.

Freeware and Adware applets

This software package contains both freeware and adware applets. A total of 40 effects (both Macromedia Flash and JavaScript effects) are included. The adware applets will display a three second message stating

"Applet from Mandomartis

With a link to the Advanced Effect Maker site. To get rid of this in your effects and in addition gain access to many more effects (currently 192 when this version was published), then please buy the software at:

<http://www.effectmaker.com/buyit.html>

Specific Applet Help is not included

To save space, the applet help files were not included. When you press on the help button for an applet the online help for that specific effect in the www.effectmaker.com site will run in your browser.

Get updates

Make sure to visit

<http://www.effectmaker.com/>

Often to get new effects and updates. You should sign up for a freeware account in order to get more effects. Due to bandwidth and space reasons, we were unable to include all freeware and adware effects in this software bundle
