

readers sites

Fine food and wine is something we know many of you enjoy, but where can you turn for advice and new ideas on what to eat and drink? There's £100 worth of software to be won each month, so if you sent in an idea or just want some inspiration for that special meal then read on...

WorldMarechal.com

This site was suggested to us by PC Advisor reader Les Tooze. "The wines are all good quality and they have an outstanding food selection. The spirit selection is also excellent," We couldn't agree more – there is absolutely everything you could ever want at WorldMarechal. The site is French based, but delivery times are between two and five days for addresses in the UK. www.worldmarechal.com

Superplonk.co.uk

Superplonk "helps you find no nonsense wine bargains" said PC Advisor reader Phil Sutcliffe. Run by The Guardian's plonk connoisseur Malcolm Gluck, this site deals exclusively with wines – you can even email questions to Gluck. There's also a FAQs (frequently asked questions) section, so you'll be able to find all the advice you need whether you are a beginner or a certified wine buff. www.superplonk.co.uk

LeapingSalmon.com

Leaping Salmon impressed Ada MacLeod so much she decided to write us a poem about it. "For foodies it's got the goodies, cooking kits and wine galore, my favourite online grub store" she said. There are loads of exotic and interesting recipes, plus plenty of good quality wines. Leaping

Salmon offers plenty of interesting ideas for tasteful culinary gifts as well. www.leapingsalmon.com

Coming up

We'll be looking at recruitment sites in a forthcoming issue of PC Advisor, and we want to hear your recommendations. Have you found your dream job on a website? Let us know – there's a prize on offer for the site we like the best. Drop us a line at pcadvisor\_letters@idg.com, with 'Readers sites' in the subject heading. Or you can add it to the 'Win £100 worth of software' thread in the Magwatch forum on our site, at www.pcadvisor.co.uk/registered. ■

Site of the month: AboutFood.co.uk

smart4software.com

AboutFood.co.uk is the winner of February's site of the month award. "They don't promote one kind of food or cooking, one company or even the latest fad, but rather [it] genuinely tries to entice with different perspectives on culinary matters," said PC Advisor reader Keith Stanfield. There are over 10,000 pages of content on this site. If, for example, you want an idea for a meal when you only have limited ingredients, you can search the recipes area of the site and it will endeavour to come up with something suitable. After all that, if you still can't find something to make your mouth water, there is also a comprehensive guide to UK restaurants. www.aboutfood.co.uk

AboutFood.co.uk was nominated by Keith Stanfield, who wins £100 worth of software, courtesy of Smart4Software.com.

Smart4Software.com's incredible online repository features a staggering 250,000 software products covering every possible subject area from office applications to video editors and games. All products can be downloaded from www.smart4software.com, a delivery service that keeps prices low and ensures the software you want is instantly available to you.