

An Image Integrator palette may be closed two ways. Either select Close from the palette's File menu or click the close box in the upper-left corner of the palette. If items have been added to or deleted from the Image Integrator library while the palette was open, a dialog appears, allowing the user to choose whether or not the changes should be saved.