Jedit is a Java IDE. In it's current form (ver 0.9) it is released as a Beta test.

THIS PROGRAM IS FOR WINDOWS 95 Only.

THERE IS ABSOLUTLY NO WARRANTY ETC...

What you need :

- 1) The Java Development Kit (www.javasoft.com)
- 2) Bill Bercik's Information Portafiler Java Documentation in Windows Help Format.
(Optional but highly recommended )
(www.dippybird.com/java.html)
- 3) This (jedit.zip)

To Install :

- 1) Unzip jedit.zip to some directory (any, your choice)
- 2) If you like, make a short cut to it.
- 3) Run jedit.exe
  - Set up the paths for the following apps. (menu Options | Directories) :
    - javac and appletviewer : This is from the java Development Kit.
    - Netscape : Netscape navigator
    - Bill Bercik's Java Doc's : Java Documentation in Windows Help format.

** The path should look like :

c:\java\bin

No slash at the end of the path.

To UNInstall :

Simply delete all the files in the directory.

Instructions:

Like most editors.

If you have a java file open (*.java), you can compile it with the menu or toolbar button.

If you have a html file open (*.html), you can view it (appletviewer) with the menu or toolbar button.

If you have Bill Bercik's Java Doc's Installed, You can highlight a word (double click on it) and press F1 to obtain help on that word if it is available.

Files :

jedit.exe : The executable.

jedit.ini :

jedit.hlp : jedit Help File
jc.bat : this must be here.
jcdone.bat
jc.pif
jcdone.pif

bcww32.dll : you can delete these files if they are on your system already cw3215.dll : BE SURE TO CHECK THE TIME STAMPS FIRST.
bids45f.dll : if you have BC++ ver 4.52 they should be there.
owl25f.dll

Bugs.

- When you "save as" a file and do not type in an extension, java files will be saved as .jav , and html files will be saved as .htm.

- If the path to javac does not exist, when you compile, No Errors will simply be reported.

***** The compile never ends.. delete a file called "done" in the working directory.
Please send me mail if this happens.

If you discover others, Please send me mail. (check my home page first to see if any fixes first).

Register :

If you would like to register this. Simply send me (Ben Levy) e-mail at w3i1@ugrad.cs.ubc.ca.
There is no price for registering this version. (you also do not get anything from me)
If you would like, you may contribute ($5 - $10) to my Buy Ben A New Computer Fund.
