

Continue down the hallway, pass the glass window (break this if you want to but there's some mean Gunners in there) and follow around the room to the door that enters the room with the communications uplink. Kill everyone in here and press up against the computer in the middle of the room to activate the satellite. A blue key will emerge from the floor, so pick that up and head back out the way you came in (there's also some ammo hidden behind the machines). This time, however, there will be more Strogg so take care of them and follow all the way back around until you reach the outside again.
