

When the elevator doors open, stay where you are and kill all the green, red and black-breasted guards you see. They will start appearing out from behind the crates. As you move forward, watch for overhead fire - a few light guards will do their best to let you know you're not welcome here. Take out as many as you can, then climb up the stairs and collect shells and armor shards if need be.