

Rigsbys Dock Icons

COLLABORATORS
----------------------

	TITLE : Rigsbys Dock Icons
ACTION	NAME	DATE	SIGNATURE
WRITTEN BY		August 16, 2024

REVISION HISTORY
-------------------------

NUMBER	DATE	DESCRIPTION	NAME

Contents

1	Rigsbys Dock Icons	1
1.1	main . . . . .	1
1.2	Description . . . . .	1
1.3	How It's Done . . . . .	1
1.4	Distrubition and copyright etc. . . . .	2
1.5	BBS Details and other details . . . . .	2

Chapter 1

Rigsbys Dock Icons

1.1 main

```
DOCK ICONS VOL ONE BY RIGSBY C/O RIGSBY'S BBS
```

```
-----
```

```
@{ " Description           " LINK section1}
@{ " How It's Done         " LINK section2}
@{ " Distribution          " LINK section3}
@{ " BBS Details           " LINK section4}
```

1.2 Description

```
DESCRIPTION
```

```
-----
```

I have recently installed the wonderful program 'Amidock' by Gary Knight it's quite an old program from 1991 but still extremely usefull. The program is along the lines of toolsmanager and the like where you have a line of iff brushes that you click on once to run a certain program, the brushes that come with the archive are now a little dated and so i have taken it upon myself to make some new brushes for it to bring it up to date. I wanted something to make it look like it was part of Magic Workbench as I run that amazing program as well, so armed with Personal paint I started to create a small library of dock brushes.

1.3 How It's Done

```
HOW IT'S DONE
```

```
-----
```

Easy, just run PPaint, open some windows with Magic Workbench icons in them, do a screen grab in PPaint and grab the icons as a brush, save them to a directory and then sort them out into seperate directories later, it's a very tedious job and I hope that i'm not breaking any copyright rules by doing this, hopefully not as the icons are freely distributable anyway.

1.4 Distrubition and copyright etc.

DISTRIBUTION ETC

-----

This archive and its contents is given away as "Logonware", this means if you like it enough to use it then you MUST call my bbs sometime and upload a few files that have been of interest to you, The details are given at the end of this doc file. This file can be included in any Amiga magazine as long as I recieve a copy free of charge, please contact my bbs for my address, the same goes to any CD or PD collection, do what you like with it but dont hold me responsible for any damage caused by any of the files included in this archive.

1.5 BBS Details and other details

DETAILS ABOUT ME AND MY BBS

-----

TEL 01530 260160

My BBS is called Rigsby's BBS and is situated in North West Leicestershire the opening times are from 8pm till 6.30am 7 days a week, I'm linked via a mail network called 'The Missing Link' to a few other bbs's in the country, I have well over 3200 files online not counting CD's and they are spread over something like 68 different sections/areas so there's something for everyone here, I'm not an artist myself, although I'd love to be able to draw properly but I enjoy messing with paint packages and tidying up my workbench so thats why I've done these dock icons, I'm also very lazy at times like some of us are and so the reason why I've uploaded this archive to Aminet is so that you don't have to go through the pain of having to cut out brushes yourself. Hope you enjoy the contents.

Rigsby.

---