1.29 Introduction

Welcome to the Amiga Demo List. This is a comprehensive listing of available demos, intros and music disks for the Amiga series computer.

Goals of this list:

- o A precise listing of what demos work on what models, and what is required to make them work. Factors such as CHIP mem, FAST mem, processor models and configurations and disk drives are taken into consideration.
- o An indexed listing of all Amiga demos according to the group that produced them.
- o An indexed listing of all Amiga demos released at the various parties and competitions held around the world each year.
- o To increase awareness of the Amiga demo scene, and to encourage demo coders to produce demos that work on ALL Amigas (by listing all the Amigas that their past productions fail to run on).
- o To increase Internet distribution of ALL Amiga demos.

The author makes no claims or promises as to the frequency or magnitude of future releases (although I'll do my best :-).

Obtaining the Latest Copy

As long as this list is maintained, I will try to put up a new version to Aminet every month or so. If you see me on IRC (as "Spinner") on the #amiga channel I will DCC the latest release to you on request.

Please upload this to your favorite local bulletin board so those without net access can also benefit from it!

1.31 Comments/Suggestions/Ideas

This list cannot reach its full potential without the assistance of users like you. I am interested in hearing all your suggestions, corrections, additions and the like. I can be reached at the following addresses:

Internet: jspeton@wlu.edu (this address is valid at least until June 1995, after which it could go at any time)
-or- jspeton@quest.blaze.bc.ca

US Mail : Jean-Guy Speton
Rt 6 Box 21
Lexington, VA
24450
USA

To have information included in this document, please mail or write me with the information, preferably in a format similar to the one used in this file. Snippets of information also welcome. All submitted information will be subject to editing. All contributors will have their names listed in the Credits section (please specify if you would NOT like to be credited, or would not like your E-Mail address listed). Contributors will have their names and E-Mail addresses listed by default.

To submit results of running demos, please include the following:

```
Computer model: A500 A500+ A600 A1000 A1200 A2000 A2500 A3000 A4000
Processor      : 68000 68010 68020 68030 68040 68060
OS version     : 1.2 1.3 2.0 2.04 2.1 3.0 3.1
Memory config  : ?? MB CHIP, ?? MB FAST

... and a brief comment explaining the results (good or bad). Degrader or similar settings also appreciated.

Note to groups: if a representative would contact me with a list of all releases and dates of release, it would be much appreciated, and would assure an accurate representation of the group. You may also include a small description of the group that will be included in the group's link (eg. current members, goals of the group, etc.).

1.32 Credits

Thanks must of course go to the FTP administrators who keep Amiga demos online. A special thanks to the Funet administrator for his efforts in organising demos according to group. It was this that inspired me to write this list.

Many thanks to Randy Abel (rabell@cup.portal.com) for his A3000 Compatibility List .

Many thanks also to Dario Rosati (rosati@dsi.unimi.it) for his A4000/030 Compatibility List .

Also thanks to:

- o Asterix (mnlcst@cs.umu.se) for information regarding his productions (and many others).
 - o SauberSound (sdni90@kom.auc.dk) for information regarding the Party 91, 92, and 93 and other parties.
 - o Ranx/Stone Arts for information regarding Balance and Stone Arts productions.
 - o Shocker/Accession (sam@pcuf.fi) for a list of over 1000 demos.
 - o Hazor/Beyond Force (hazor@niksula.hut.fi) for a complete listing of Beyond Force productions. Hazor should also be commended for his frequent and numerous uploads to the Funet and Aminet archives.
 - o Andrew Zendic (lex@tezcac.chi.il.us) for information on LSD productions and other miscellaneous information.
 - o Stewart McNabb (stewartm@rwle.rwc.org.au) for A1200 compatibility information.

- o Bilbo the First/Hypenosis for A3000 compatibility information. He is also the author of "RunLame".
 - o Gert Brinkmann for extensive reports of A1000, A1200 and A3000 compatibility information. (My most active compatibility info source!)
 - o Robert King (100330.76@CompuServe.COM) for Digital information.
 - o Count Zero/Damage (count@phoenix.oulu.fi) for comprehensive information on Damage and Phokuz.
 - o Rowan Crawford (Sumaleth/Pearl) (s1171180@giaeb.cc.monash.edu.au) for lots of miscellaneous help and information.
 - o Jesper Jansson (d89jja@efd.lth.se) for results from ECC93 and for information on Noice and Noice releases.
 - o Drabek David (XDRAD02@st.vse.cz) for Sanity information.
 - o Jani "Flame/Pygmy Projects" Vaarala (jvaarala@phoenix.oulu.fi) for Pygmy Projects and The Fantasy Force production information.
 - o Arni Freyr Jonsson (afj@rhi.hi.is) for information on Artemis productions and other miscellaneous information.
 - o Rat/ex-Crass (pastal@nellads.cc.monash.edu.au) for Crass information.
 - o Johnny Turbo/Digital Access (John.Bus@syd.dcet.csiro.au) for information on all Digital Access productions.
 - o Jesper Antonsson (d93jesan@und.ida.liu.se OR jesper@lysator.liu.se) for A4000/030 compatibility and other information.
 - o Martin "Maduplec" Arentoft (spplemad@hpl.cbs.dk) for compatibility information.
 - o Nitrolyte/Elanthia for Elanthia information.
 - o Eksec/Infect for extensive Infect information. My first snail mailing!
 - o Dire/The Dark Demon/ASCII Unlimited for extensive information on ASCII Unlimited, Cadaver, Depth, Desire, Effect, Eremation and The Dark Demon.
 - o Janne Simonen (jsimonen@cc.joensuu.fi) for Faculty and other information.
 - o Orgasmatron of X-Trade for X-Trade information.
 - o Jari Korkiakoski (korkiako@stekt14.oulu.fi) (Firewalker/Halo) for Genocide and Halo information.
 - o Kai Hoepner (bigrat@fub46.zedat.fu-berlin.de) (big-rat/SYNDiCATE) for a list of Syndicate productions and a large list of demos!
 - o Joergen Pettersson (SA-JPN@Skelleftea.SE) (Wizard/Defiance) for a copy of his own demo list!

- o Mikko Koivisto (Mac/Stellar) for a list of Stellar productions.
- o Mark Waber (Airforce/ex-Justice) for a list of all Justice productions in a format identical to this list! Saved me much work, thanks.
- o Michael Krause (Raw Style) for Complex information.

Thanks to all!

1.33 FTP sites

Many of the demos listed within this document can be found on various FTP sites on the Internet. The two most popular are Aminet and Funet. If a demo in this list can be found on either of these sites, it will contain path and filename information.

Aminet:

Aminet is not one site, but rather a collection of sites worldwide who mirror their files daily. The following sites are part of Aminet. Please only use the site that is nearest to you.

Filename references on Aminet will use the form /pub/aminet/... .

Funet:

Located in Finland, Funet (ftp.funet.fi) contains a large collection of Amiga demos. The majority of demos are in the directory /pub/amiga/demos.

For additional information on FTP, please read the FTP.FAQ, posted bi-weekly to the comp.sys.amiga.misc newsgroup.

1.34 Notes on Compatibility

Notes on Compatibility

Demos that are contained as AmigaDOS executable files (eg. file demos, intros, etc.) will often have additional information following in parentheses. These may be:

address	The demo has been packed/crunched in such a way that when executed, the demo unpacks to a specific location in your Amiga's memory, overwriting whatever information was there.
relocator	The demo has either not been packed, or has been packed in such a way that it depacks to a relocatable address. Either way, the demo shouldn't overwrite any preallocated memory.

Please note that different packers may have been used on different copies of the demo, and many packed files can be unpacked and saved as a normal executable, but that shouldn't affect the information listed.

no exit	The demo either doesn't allow one to exit or resets your Amiga upon completion.
exit	The demo allows an exit back to the AmigaOS. A (address, exit) combination will probably result in a system crash soon after running the demo, while a (relocator, exit) combination should allow use of the Amiga after running with no ill effects.

It should also be noted that if a demo has been tested (and works) on a system with a higher processor/OS version/etc. it will probably work on yours. For example, a demo that works on an A3000 will probably work on any A500.

Also note that the vast majority of demos were written on and for PAL systems, and many require PAL to run.

1.35 Parties

Parties are becoming a more common occurrence in the demo scene. They often hold various competitions for demos, intros, mods, and graphics, with the top finishers winning some amount of money or goods. The list below contains some of the larger parties, with the entries in the demo and intro competitions indexed according to placement.

Summit 91	Apr. 26, 1991
The Party 91	Dec. 27, 1991
The Gathering 92	Apr. 15, 1992

1.37 The Party 1991

"Quartex Silents Anarchy, The Party 1991"

The Party 1991 was held between December 27th and 29th, 1991 in Aars, Denmark. At that time the C64 was still well represented at parties, and the demo competitions for the C64 and Amiga were almost the same size. 1250 people visited the party, which made it quite a big party. It has since only been exceeded by The Party II.

Not much information was written down about the Party in 1991, only the 2 demos with the highest ranking. Odyssey was a long demo, a kind of space quest, and Hard Wired placed Silents on top of the charts for years!

1.40 The Party 1992

"Crystal Silents Anarchy, The Party 1992, Part II, The Final"

The Party II, a demo coders' gathering was held between December 27th and 29th, 1992 in Aars, Denmark.

2500 scene people from the whole world visited the party, which confirmed its status as an international party, and the biggest one.

Three types of demos were submitted: demo and intro competitions, and other releases. The intros are smaller than 40KBytes. The releases didn't participate any competitions, and consist mostly of disk-mags and compilation disks.

A general rule for productions for the competitions was that they should run on an A500 with 1MB of memory, either 1MB chip ram, or with 0.5MB chip ram and 0.5MB fast ram.

The party also hosted music and graphics competition and competitions for the C64 and IBM-compatibles.

Amiga releases were contributed to the FUNET Archive by SauberSound <sauber@iesd.auc.dk>.

1.50 European Computer Conference 93

On Aug. 5-8, 1993, a demo party called ECC (European Computer Conference) was held in Oerebro, Sweden. Arrangers were a group called Virtual, and the party was officially sponsored by Swedish Commodore. Over 600 visitors showed up. TV21 showed up as well and went around interviewing a lot of people. (A few weeks later they showed some demos from the competition along with the interviews on their Friday night show 'Metamorph'.)
