

Cello WWW Browser Release 1.01a

Cello is a multipurpose Internet browser which permits you to access information from many sources in many formats.

Technically, it's a WorldWideWeb client application. This means that you can use Cello to access data from WorldWideWeb, Gopher, FTP, and CSO/ph/qi servers, as well as X.500 directory servers, WAIS servers, HYTELNET, TechInfo, and others through external gateways.
