

If you enjoy using SndControl, you may be interested to know that it will soon have a bigger brother called FunSounds™. This new control panel will be distributed by Now Software as part of their Now Fun! collection of ...well, fun software modules.

The other modules in the collection are:

- FunColors™ - Lets you customize the colors in your Macintosh environment
- FunCursors™ - Lets you substitute and create animated cursors.
- FunPictures™ - Displays images and desktop patterns on your desktop.
- FunScreenSavers™ - Protects your screen from burn-in by running screen saver modules (includes 30 new modules and will run After Dark modules).

FunSounds will handle several more events and sport an improved user interface. It will, however, only run under system 7 or greater.

The NowFun! collection should be available at a store near you in the early days of May. Registered users of SndControl are entitled to the same special introductory price Now Software will extend to registered users of its own products, that is, $19 (plus shipping).^{*} Compare this with a list price of $69 and a probable mail order cost of $49 and I think you have one more good reason to hurry up and send me that registration fee today!

And no - in case you are wondering - this does not mean that I've "gone commercial" and will stop distributing shareware programs. It's just that I wanted to gain the experience of working with a well established and reputable company such as Now Software and see how this can contribute towards making my programs more robust and even better supported.

Financially speaking, your single registration fee will be equivalent to the royalties from the sale of hundreds of NowFun! packages...

If you already are a SndControl registered user and have received this document via a download or a friend, be assured that you'll receive a postcard from me by the end of April explaining how you can take advantage of the NowFun! special offer. If you haven't received it by mid May, please write to me in case the address I have for you in my file is incorrect or something.

Thank you very much for taking the time to read this document and trying out SndControl: I hope you enjoy it as much as I enjoyed writing it.

Cheers for now,

Riccardo Ettore

*The $19 offer applies to users who have registered SndControl by the end of April 1993. Users who register after May 1, 1993 will receive a voucher to order NowFun! at the higher - but still special - price of $29.
