Parachroma is a small shareware program that allows you to change the color of the paragraph markers in Microsoft Word 5.0. This can be useful if you use Word everyday and prefer a certain color in order to avoid eyestrain.

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Double click on the parachroma icon.

2. You will then see the following:

click the mouse and you will see:

Parachroma lets you change the color of paragraph markers in Microsoft Word 5.0 .

Word must not be running when you change the color of the markers. Once you have changed the colors, start Word and the change will be shown.

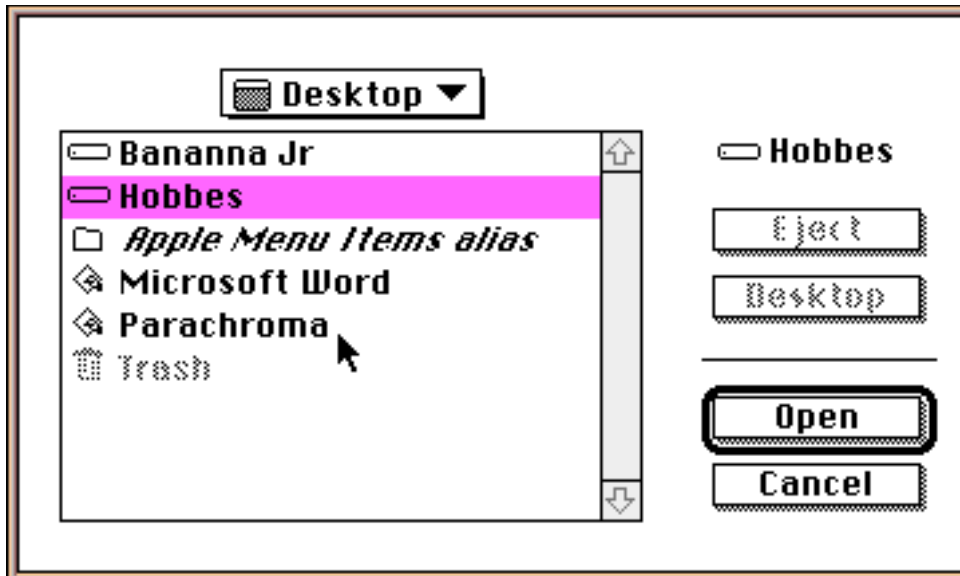

click again and you will see:

Registered users will get a disk with the latest version as well as other goodies.

finally, click and you will see the following open file dialog:

3. Locate the Word application and click the Open button.

4. Using the standard color picker, (example shown below) choose a paragraph color.

5. Start the Word 5.0 application. Your paragraph markers should now be the color you chose.

TROUBLESHOOTING

If you did not see the color picker and the program beeped at you, then you did not select the Word 5.0 application. Try running the program again and be sure to choose Word 5.0 in the open dialog.
