Installing Fonts into Win OS/2 with ATM

This document explains how to install Adobe typefaces into Windows when running it under OS/2 and using Adobe Type Manager (ATM).

Installing Adobe typefaces into Windows when running under OS/2 is similar to installing typefaces under Windows when running on top of DOS. In order to install typefaces, you need the .pfb files and either a matching .pfm file, or the matching .afm & .inf files. (If you have .pfm files, you may use those instead of the .inf and .afm files.)

To install typefaces into Windows when it is running under OS/2:

1. Start Win OS/2 and double-click the ATM icon located in the Win OS/2 Main window. The ATM Control Panel opens. Your ATM version states that it is "inactive" because there are no typefaces installed initially.

2. Click Add to display the Add ATM Fonts window.

3. Insert OS/2 Printer driver diskette that contains the typefaces you want to add. This is diskette number 5 for the 3.5-inch diskettes, and diskette number 6 for the 5.25-inch diskettes.

4. In the Directories window of the Control Panel, double-click the letter of the drive holding your typeface diskette. The Control Panel displays a list of available typefaces in the window to the left of the Directories window.

5. Select the typefaces you want to install. You can click a single typeface, Shift-click a range of typefaces, or Control-click to select several typefaces.

6. Click Add. ATM installs the typefaces and returns to the Control Panel.

7. Exit ATM. Your typefaces become active once you restart Windows. You can install all other Adobe Rev. 3 typefaces using this method.

Note: Rev. 3 fonts usually come on one typeface diskette. Some Adobe Rev. 3 fonts have more than one font diskette. These packages are:

- Adobe Plus Pack (2-3.5" and 1-5.25" diskettes)
- Adobe PostScript Cartridge (3-3.5" and 2-5.25" diskettes)
- Adobe Type Cartridge 1 (2-3.5" and 1-5.25" diskettes)
- Adobe Type Cartridge 2 (2-3.5" and 1-5.25" diskettes)
- Value Pack (2-3.5" and 2-5.25" diskettes)
- Type Basics (2-3.5" diskettes)
