

Irrigation: Planning Drip

Lay out drip irrigation lines in this screen. Drip tubing is usually placed above ground, though it may be buried or mulched.

- Start by choosing one of the two drip lines in the Object Bar.
- Draw the drip lines around your plants.
- Then use the individual emitters along its entire length to irrigate your landscape.

Note: Drip may be the most water efficient way to irrigate, but it's not maintenance free. You can expect to repair the lines at the start of each watering season.
