

Questions and Answers to OneVision

Question: For previewing a selected font in the Font panel I have to click the <Preview> command for each font again. Is this really necessary?

Answer: Holding down the Shift key when clicking the <Preview> command keeps the preview permanently active and the font preview is displayed automatically for each font you select afterwards. Clicking the <Preview> command again switches the automatic preview off.