

Upgrades

If you did not get your copy of Java Script It! from the Java Script It! website then you should visit the Java Script It! website to make sure you have the most recent version. You should especially make sure of this if you are going to order it.

Please note that if you paid for Java Script It! then upgrades for the current version number are free (example: if you own Java Script It! 1.2 then version 1.7 would be free). This is a standard software practice.

Instructions for installing the upgrade are provided on the Download page of the Java Script It! website.
