

Future of MailEnclosure

536262_PixelRule.tiff ↗

MailEnclosure currently only supports outgoing enclosures. I have two feature which I want to add in up coming releases:

- Incoming Enclosures. While I don't foresee this app ever being a full featured mail app I would like it to be able to provide services entries to open mail of the same type it generates. The idea being that if you recieve MIME mail in Mail.app you could go to the services menu and pump the letter over to MailEnclosure to view it.
- I want the mail types to be dynamically loadable modules. So that adding an enclose type can be done by anyone.

Also, a secondary goal:

- Want to tackle cc:Mail.

The app as it stands has been designed with both of these eventual additions in mind.
