

Printing

The "Print" menu allows you to print one or more envelopes to the selected printer. "Print" (or Cmd-p) prints landscape output that is left aligned and vertically centered. Currently Poste assumes that envelopes will feed in a manor similar to the NeXT/Apple/HP series printers.

The number of envelope records printed will correspond with the total records indicated in the envelope window's title bar. If no records are indicate (e.g. no address file is open), Poste will print the envelope being displayed.

See Also...

File Menu