NetInfoManager
Preferences panel
4padPointRule2.eps ¬
Use this panel to set preferences for NetInfoManager.

You can use this panel to indicate how you want the application to confirm modifications to the NetInfo database, to choose whether a directory inspector appears as a browser or a table, to specify a particular domain to open when you startup the application, and to specify what information you want the domain browser to show.

You open this panel with the Preferences command in the Info menu.
