gtuner10.lha         VX   13K GuitarTuner 1.0 by Christopher Just - Are you a guitar player? Do you have perfect pitch? Probably not! Then this program's for you. GuitarTuner uses your audio ciruitry to produce the open string notes for a guitar, giving you a reference for tuning your instrument. Currently, only standard EADGBe tuning is supported.
