

TimeSlice Tool Bar.

Minimize or Maximize the window.

Start recording time. A new time record is appended to the list of time records, and the button becomes the Stop button. The new time record is the active time record, and it is displayed in italicized text.

Restart the selected time record. This button looks just like the Start button above except the minute hand is ten after the hour. This button is available when only one time record is selected. The time interval between the stop time and when you restart is calculated as paused time.

Stop recording time. This button then becomes the Start button.

Pause recording time. This button then becomes the Resume button.

Resume recording time. This button then becomes the Pause button.

Total All time records. This button then becomes the Total Marked button.
