

Keep Help Available

You can continue to view an online help window while the HP PictureScan window appears.

When a Help window is open, use the mouse to drag a corner or a side of the window to make it smaller so both Help and the HP PictureScan window can fit on your screen. To move the Help window, position the cursor anywhere in the title bar and drag. Use the window's scroll bars to see all of the Help information if the topic does not appear completely on a single screen.

>>> Hints

If your screen is too small for both windows to appear at once, you can keep both windows open and switch back and forth between them.
