

<http://www.epochicons.com>

January 1999
Studio Stuff Icons

Introduction:

Everybody's going mad about the iMac. Everyone is hard at work to create THE ultimate iMac set. "Star Wars" is another example for a subject that has been used up. Well, this is what you might call a break from the norm. A rec studio is a thing that, as far as I know, has never before been used as a subject for an icon set.

Description:

16 Copland-style icons based on stuff you might find in a recording studio: mixers, synthesizers, amplifiers, records and so on.

For more icons visit Epoch Icons on the web!

<http://www.epochicons.com>

Legality:

The icons included in this set were made by Julius Niiniranta and are copyright © 1998 Epoch Graphics. They were created for personal use only. This set may be distributed as freeware as long as this Read-Me file remains intact. These icons cannot be used in any commercial application or internet presence without express permission from the author(s), and are intended for the free and non-profit use of individuals only.

For distribution information, please contact me or go to Epoch Icons on the web:
email:

juliusn@fimug.fi
internet: <http://www.epochicons.com>

How To Make Use of the Icons:

1. You need to be running a Macintosh running system 7.0 or later.
2. Create a new blank folder (or select the file or folder of the icon you wish to customize)
3. Select an icon from the icon set you want to use.
4. From the "File" menu, select "Get Info".
5. Click on the upper left corner of the dialog box to select that icon.
6. From the "Edit" menu select the "Copy" command.
7. Repeat steps 4 & 5 on the blank folder you originally created.
8. From the "Edit" menu select the "Paste" command.
9. That's it! (now e-mail us and tell us what you think)

Contact:

Epoch Icons:
<http://www.epochicons.com>

Jason Wohlstadter

- wnosaj@flash.net
Lauri Kieksi

- lauri.kieksi@netlife.fi
Julius Niiniranta

- juliusn@fimug.fi