

All tile menus begin with the same eight menu items, but tiles for folders also list the contents of the folder.

- Select any item to open it, the same as if you'd double-clicked that item in the Finder.
- Items that are folders themselves are hierarchical menus. You can see up to five levels of folders this way. (A system limitation prevents more than five menus from being displayed at once.)