

How to Purchase

The Tilery is distributed under the shareware system. You may install it and try it out for free for up to 30 days. After that time, some features will become disabled until you purchase a registration key. The registration key will permanently enable all features, and will turn off all shareware reminders.

To purchase a registration key for The Tilery, use the Register program that comes with the The Tilery. Using Register allows you to pay by check, credit card, cash of many nations, or First Virtual.

1. Open the Register application by double-clicking its icon. You'll see a window titled "Register."
2. Fill in your name and addresses in the boxes at the top of the window.
3. Find The Tilery in the scrolling list of products.
4. How many copies? Fill in the number of copies you want in the The Tilery "Single User" box. (Usually you'll want just one copy, so enter 1.)
5. Choose your method of payment from the pop-up menu labeled "Method."
6. Send in your payment. Payment should be sent to our distributor Kagi Shareware by following the directions in the "Payment Details" box. Please read the directions carefully so that you send your payment to the right address, and if you pay by check please be sure you make out the check correctly. Be sure you include your correct, current email or postal address because we can't send you your registration key without a valid address.

After You've Paid

After your payment has been received and processed, you will receive an email or postcard from Kagi that will tell you your registration key. When you have your registration key, select Register from The Tilery's File menu, and click the Enter Key button. Type in your name and registration key, then click OK. The Tilery will quickly verify your key, and will immediately enable all features if your key is accepted. (If it's not accepted, double-check that you have entered the key correctly - the best way is to copy it from the email it came in, and paste it instead of typing it by hand. If you are sure you've entered it correctly and it still doesn't work, please contact Semicolon Software at <rick@kagi.com>.

Please be aware that the version of The Tilery that you downloaded is complete and fully functional (except that some features are disabled after the 30-day demo period, if you have not purchased and entered a registration key). There are no disks, CDs, or printed manuals: when you purchase, you will receive a registration key and nothing else. The latest version of this program is available for downloading from our Web site at <<http://www.semicolon.com/>>. If you feel that your copy is not complete, or if you do not have the latest version, feel free to visit our Web site and download a new copy.

If you have any questions about your payment after you've made it, send email to our payment service Kagi Shareware at admin@kagi.com, and send a copy of your email to us at rick@kagi.com.

Questions about The Tilery itself (bug reports, technical support questions, and such) should be sent only to us at rick@kagi.com. Please do not send technical questions to the "admin" address: admin is only for payment questions and cannot provide technical support.
