

Welcome to From Scratch, the Recipe processor for Windows.
Release notes:

vesion 1.0 - 11/01/92

Initial (beta) release.

version 1.1 - 11/29/92

User can now enter any measure unit

User can now enter any ingredient, no 'master list'

Databases are smaller due to the use of system assigned keys

There is no documentation for the conversion utility yet.

The Record/Copy menu option is undocumented. It simply copies the current recipe from the stack to the Windows Clipboard.

Added auto-index creation both main and conversion program

Revised conversion to work with Menu Master 7.x

version 1.11 - 12/10/92

Nutrition features have been added.

The time to prepare field has been added.

The origin field has been added.

All new fields are searchable, and appear in hardcopy, clipboard, and conversion

A warning has been added when the user goes beyond end or start of recipe list

Pathname has been lengthened in the installation program

Null values supported for searching nutrition information and preparation time