dtSearch 2.0 for DOS
dtSearch 2.0 for Windows

The shareware version of dtSearch is distributed in three files:

DTSD.EXE: dtSearch 2.0 for DOS
DTSW.EXE: dtSearch 2.0 for Windows
DTSDOC.EXE: dtSearch 2.0 documentation and ALPHABET utility

These files are self-extracting archives created with ARJ 2.30.
To install dtSearch, create a directory on your hard disk, copy the archive files to the directory, and execute each of the archive files to uncompress them.

The archives contain the following files:

Archive	File Name	Purpose of File:
DTSD.EXE	DTSEARCH.EXE	dtSearch for DOS program
	DTSEARCH.HLP	dtSearch for DOS help file
	DTSEARCH.MSG	Messages
	DTSD_SW.SCR	Screen data file
	DTSEARCH.NOI	List of "noise" words
	ANSI.DAT	Character set data
	ENGLISH.ABC	Character set data
	ORDER.DOC	Registration information and order form
	README.SW	This file
	VENDOR.DOC	Information and restrictions for disk vendors, distributors, BBS sysops, user groups, etc.
DTSW.EXE	DTSWIN.EXE	dtSearch for Windows program
	DTSWIN.HLP	dtSearch for Windows help file
	DTSEARCH.MSG	Messages
	DTSW_SW.SCR	Screen data file
	DTSEARCH.NOI	List of "noise" words
	ANSI.DAT	Character set data
	ENGLISH.ABC	Character set data
	ORDER.DOC	Registration information and order form
	README.SW	This file
	VENDOR.DOC	Information and restrictions for disk vendors, distributors, BBS sysops, user groups, etc.
DTSDOC.EXE	DTSEARCH.DOC	Printable copy of the dtSearch manual
	ALPHABET.EXE	dtSearch alphabet customization utility

Files with the same name are really the same. For example, the DTSEARCH.MSG file for dtSearch for Windows is exactly the same as the DTSEARCH.MSG file for dtSearch for DOS.

Upgrade Information

If you are upgrading from a previous version of dtSearch, you should install dtSearch 2.0 in a different directory from the old version of dtSearch. dtSearch 2.0 uses a different index format from previous versions, so you should not attempt to use your old indexes with the new version of dtSearch.

If you have both dtSearch 2.0 for DOS and dtSearch 2.0 for Windows, you can install them in the same directory so that you can use the same indexes and setup files for both versions.
