Object of the Game

Golf is a very simple solitaire game that, while making no great demands, offers some chance for skill.

Five overlapping rows of seven cards are dealt face up to form the Tableau.
One card is dealt below these to start the Wastepile.   The reamaining cards are placed face down on the left, forming the Hand.

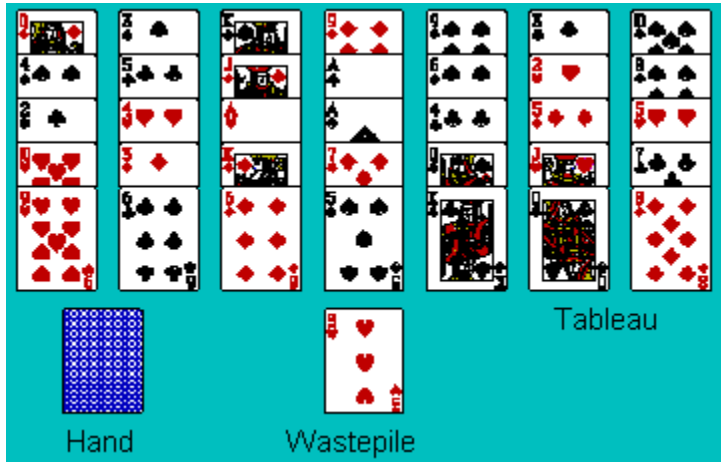

The object of the game is to clear away the Tableau by building cards onto the Wastepile.

Playing the Game

Cards are removed from the Tableau by building onto the Wastepile.   Building is in sequence, up or down, regardless of suit.   For example, a five may be placed on a six, or four.   A Jack may be placed on a ten or a Queen.   However, only a two may be placed on an Ace, and nothing may be built on a King.   Once a King is played, you must draw a card from the Hand.   The bottom cards of each column are available to be played.   Click on the card you wish to play and, if legal, it will move to the Wastepile.

Click the Hand to play the remaining cards, one at a time, onto the Wastepile, using each card played   to remove as many as possible from the Tableau.   You may revert back to your previous move by pressing Undo from the menu bar.

The game is won if all Tableau cards are cleared away.   The game is over when no legal moves remain.   Your score is the number of cards remaining in the Tableau.   The lower, the better.
