

Copyright ©1992 by Scott Hess. All Rights Reserved.

What Do I Get For My Money?

When you register, you will receive support via email. Send your questions to either of the email addresses listed in Welcome. You may also phone me directly. Telephone support is much less stable, as I'm a working programmer - you'd be most likely to catch me at around 2am Central time. Also, in most cases I cannot afford to return long distance phone calls for support. Email is by far the most usable support route.

I will attempt to notify all registered users of upgrades, bug reports, and bug workarounds. If you do not have Internet access, send me a note, and I can try to work out a way to get updates, bug fixes, and other support to you.