On Vacation is a small and simple NEXTSTEP utility designed to configure your computer to let people know you're On Vacation or away for an extended period of time. On Vacation also allows you to forward incoming messages to any valid e-mail address and inform the original sender that someone else will be responding to the mail.

Faxcess is a new product which provides developers access to the standard NEXTSTEP FaxPanel. This product allows a developer to bypass the PrintPanel and go directly to the FaxPanel, thus creating an API for the FaxPanel. The fields can be "filled in" using the supplied Interface build palette or programmatically.
