Product Support

American Systems provides user support to registered versions via mail, and/or telephone.

American Systems will answer questions and resolve serious bugs for the first three months after registration. For problems involving a specific hardware or software environment or feature, we may choose not to modify the program. In that case, if a problem is reported within three months after purchase, then we shall offer to refund the user's purchase price.

If a bug prevents you from evaluating Print Screen for Windows during the first 30 days (prior to purchase), American Systems will attempt to assist but is not under obligation to resolve issues beyond our control.

How to use Print Screen for Windows

To print the entire screen to your Windows Default printer, press the <PrintScreen> key.

To print the current window to your Windows Default printer, hold the <Alt> key down and press the <PrintScreen> key.

Screen Menu

Print

Prints the displayed screen to the Windows Default Printer

Exit

Exits Print Screen For Windows

Options Menu

Stretch

Stretches/Squeezes the displayed screen into the size of the Program's Window. This option will be restored if selected when the program restarts as long as Save Settings on Exit is Selected.

Auto Print

Automatically prints the screen to the Windows Default Printer when the <PrintScreen> or <Alt>+<PrintScreen> keys are pressed. If this option is not selected, then you must click on Print in the Screen menu. This option will be restored if selected when the program restarts as long as Save Settings on Exit is selected.

Save Settings on Exit

Saves the state of the Auto Print and Stretch selections when the program exits. The state of the Auto Print and Stretch selections will be restored when Print Screen for Windows is started again. This option will be restored if selected when the program restarts as long as Save Settings on Exit is selected.
