Because of a select few young men in our high school that feel that the locker room is a place to dump food wrappers wherever they want, stash trays and silverware in empty lockers, and be just general slobs, the boys locker room will be locked and off limits during the day and during lunch unless it is your PE hour. NO trays, silverware, milk cartons or food is going to be allowed out of the cafeteria until further notice. Violators will be given a detention.

If we can learn to pick up after ourselves consistently, and put trash in the garbage instead of on the floor or left on tables in the commons, we could go back to the way it was.
