

The height and emense size of the many pillars is dizzying. There look to be over a hundred of them. The manpower required to erect such a room shows the great power of a pharoh. The light in here is not very good, but a lamp or torch is not required.