

The Grand Gallery is an extension of the ascending passageway. But this part is wider and the walls are of polished limestone. Ahead, the group can see two sets of portcullises that block the way.