Acknowledgments

This book represents a consortium of efforts, and is principally derived from material provided by Randy Martin , Yung-Chin Chen , and Ken Yeager .

Thanks also to Randy for his many painstaking reviews of this manual.

Also providing invaluable service were the following:

Shabbir Latif , for once again running point between Engineering and Publications, answering questions, and presenting tutorials to clarify the complicated details of the R10000 processor operations.

Charlie Price , for use of his rejuvenated MIPS-4 Instruction Set Architecture.

Steve Proffitt , for both his technical assistance, and helping handle the multitude of niggling details involved in getting this manual printed.

The following also provided technical help in innumerable ways: Arun Mehta , Tim Layman , Greg Shippen , Yeffi Van Atta , John Brennan , Len Widra , Roy Johnson , Hector Sucar , Hong-Men Su , Mazin Khurshid , Steve Whitney , Doug Yanagawa (chip illustrations and socket pinouts), Mike Gupta , Steven Peltier , Rob Conrad , Hai Nguyen , Bill Voegtli , and Sharad Mehrotra at the University of Illinois.

Remediating a prior deficiency, thanks to Tom McReynolds .

In Production and Creative, thanks to Melissa Miller for her design of the cover; Yen Nguyen , for handling the printing; both Kay Maitz and Beth Fraker for resolving various design issues; and Michael Ritchie for tracking progress.
