Chapter 4

Configuring the IRIX Operating System

Chapter 4 provides information on general system configuration. These tasks include setting most system features:

- Checking your current system hardware and software configuration
- Altering the system configuration with chkconfig
- Setting the system display
- Changing processors on multi-processor systems
- Changing the name of a system
- Setting the network address
- Setting the default printer
- Setting the time zone
- Changing the date and time