

INSTALLATION UNAVAILABLE!!

If you see this screen it means that the installation option is not available for the program which had been selected. Programs that require special installation or set-up will automatically default to that mode or process. This program was designed to run directly from the floppy.

THE END