

- The expression there is (singular) becomes there are in the plural.
Example: There is a hole in your pocket.
There are many nice flowers in that garden.
- In the interrogative form, there is put after the verb.
Example: Is there a problem?
Are there lots of children on the playground?
- In the negative form, there is becomes there isn't (there is not) and there are becomes there aren't (there are not).
Example: There isn't any milk left.
There aren't many mistakes in your paper.
