

- The direct interrogatives are constructed by placing the auxiliary (or "to have got", and "to be" as a stative verb) before the subject.

Example:

Are you listening to me?

Will you go home at noon?

- When the sentence doesn't have an auxiliary, we use the auxiliary do.

Example:

Do you speak English?