

I want to love you
I need to love you
Every time I'm in your presence
My heart skips a beat
Waiting for you to say
The words I've been waiting for
"Will you be mine?"
My eyes will fill with tears
As you embrace me lovingly
Openly, I would accept you
When will you finally love me? Never.
I know this to be an unanswered prayer
Told to others only through poetry
For this will never be a reality
But maybe one day...
