

View Menu

- View by Name: Displays the startup files sorted alphabetically by name.
- View by Type: Displays the startup files sorted according to the folder that the files are located in.
- View by Order: Displays the startup files according to their load order. In this mode, you can reorder the startup files by dragging a file to a new load position.
- View Info: When in this mode, selecting a startup file will display important information about that file. It displays things such as memory usage, version information, and the file's type/creator. If you are using Conflict Catcher from the Finder, you can click on the open button to open a startup file.
