Batch It! is an Image Batch Processor which was developed to ease the task of editing a large collection of images.

Batch It! allows you to convert a variety of image files to the popular JPEG format for use on the Internet or for your photo archive.

Batch It! allows you to reduce the file size of your JPEG files thus enabling it to load up faster across the Internet, without losing image resolution.

Batch It! allows you to add caption, copyright tags or logos onto the Internet to protect your copyrighted works.

Batch It! allows you to resize the images to conform to a maximum screen size allowing them retain it's size ratio or to conform to a uniform file size.

Batch It! allows you to make thumbnails of your images.

Batch It! allows you to capture images directly from your scanner and allows you to edit the colour settings, gamma, contrast and brightness.

Batch It! allows you to perform bulk file name change.

Batch It! comes with simple to use icons and screens and allows you to zoom in and out each image.

Batch It! is simply powerful and simple to you. It is a useful tool for webmasters and those maintaining photo archives.

Batch It! takes away the pain of performing repititive mandate task. We believe that the computer should make our lives easier and not more complicating.

You could register your copy of Batch It! and start your productive journey through this mandate task. Registration is available at our web site.
