

This demonstrates the ability of Remote Remote GH to take a list of tracks to play in any order you want. This particular script plays all the tracks on the current play list in random order without repeating. Requires the random number function of the numerics extension.

Save as a persistent Run-Only Application to continually play random tracks.