

Why Registering Is Important

I wrote Guy Friday mostly to organize my own life, but a few of my friends liked it, and so I gave them copies of their own. They offered a lot of suggestions, and I tried incorporating most of them. Guy Friday has taken me a long time to write. I'm not looking to make a living off of it, but I would like to at least recoup some of the rather substantial cost I put into it.

Here's my request. Try out Guy Friday. If you find yourself using it, please register and pay the small fee ($24). That's not a lot of money when you consider what Guy Friday does and what other companies charge for their programs.

I can't force you to pay. I didn't "hobble" or "cripple" the software to force you to register. I am relying completely on your honor. Please pay if you use Guy Friday. Thanks.
