

Good! You entered enough information for me to process your order. Before I can dial your modem, though, I need to know about your telephone service. If you aren't sure about one of the questions I ask below, just ignore it and hit the Done button.