MardiGras.sea83905
Howard Strodtman, Typographer, formerly of Santa Barbara, CA has been making PostScript type for since 1989 and has worked with Foster & Horton of Santa Barbara (FOHO Fonts) to produce some of the most unique typestyles available for the Macintosh. Add the true spirit of MardiGras into a peice without leaving town! A style from Howard Strodtman, Typographer guaranteed to pique interest and sprinkle loads of fun into a document. A zany character set can be used for short heads or initial letters. It is not recommended for text uses; the character forms are too unique, too wild for smaller type sizes. Distribution of this font is for non-commercial purposes and is hereby authorized as long as this notice is passed out with it without alteration. Should you this font give you a laugh (or chuckle), please honor the shareware request by sending $10.00 to: Howard J. Strodtman 9444 Lowell Skokie, IL 60076-1455 This software has been scanned for viruses, using Disinfectant 2.9. Compression via Stuffit.

DTPPrinter.cpt16908
When Apple first introduced System 7 at the 1989 Developer's Conference, it included something called the 'New Print Architecture'. One of the really cool parts of the NPA were 'Desktop Printers'. This allowed you to have an icon on your desktop which represented a particular printer. You could then drag a document onto the particular printer icon, and it would print to that printer. Very useful when you have multiple Laserwriters, a Fax Modem, Print to Disk utility, etc. Well, the NPA disappeared, and with it 'Desktop Printers'....In order to correct this MAJOR oversight, I wrote DTPPrinter which implements 'Desktop Printers' NOW under System 7.

Aldus icon family.sit 67644

Are you tired of looking old the same old Black & White icons that you get with your Aldus software? Are you tired of that ugly MultiFinder icon you get with PageMaker 4.0? Well then I have got a solution for you! The enclosed file contains a complete icon family for PageMaker 4.0, Table Editor, PrePrint 1.5, FreeHand 3.0, Persuasion 2.0 and even the Aldus installer Utility. I worked hard on these icons to give them all a consistent look right down to a purple background color very much like the color Aldus uses on all of it's packaging. I also got color ideas from the startup dialogs of PageMaker 4.0, FreeHand 3.0 and PrePrint 1.5. I just had to kind of wing it with the Persuasion 2.0 icons. These icons aren't just for you folks out there with color monitors. I think all of you compact Mac users out there and those with Black & White displays of any kind will like the ics# included. They are a big improvement over the messy ics# approximations displayed in small icon view or the MultiFinder icons displayed in the menu Bar of your monochrome display. You will need System 7, ResEdit 2.1.1 or iContraption to install the new icons. Both can be downloaded on AOL. iContraption is shareware. ResEdit is published by Apple computer.
