Introduction...

It got tedious going back and forth into the help file and the reference books to check on the MsgBox command values and widgets every time I wanted a message box in my application.

Now lets see...what values gives me a message box with system modal, first button default and no Icon properties ... hummm...

Or what value give me box with no icon and a thin border with 3 buttons with the middle button default??? Duhhh...

If you are like me, you will be having spasms very shortly. Forget it..run this utility and leaf through all the available boxes. The values are displayed for your use. Enjoy...

Operation:

Simple...

1-Click the icon buttons on the upper right to toggle through all the boxes available.

2-Click the View Box button to display the actual message box as it will appear in your application.

When you find a box you like, click the Copy button to paste the appropriate code into a project form.

If you want, you may enter a Title and Message for your box and it will be pasted with the statement into your project form.

If you check the "Use Return Values" check box, the code will be pasted for checking on button return values.
