Brian Hitney is a freelance graphic designer and artist who's been using Bryce for about a year and half. Using MetaCreations' software tools almost exclusively, he feels they allow the artist to focus on the vision and have fun with the process. Currently residing in New England, Brian spends most of his free time developing web sites, working to create unique Bryce images, and is becoming more active with 3D modelling, design, and animation every day. He maintains an online gallery at http://lonewolf.tierranet.com, and frequents the Bryce Forum (http://www.delphi.com/bryce/) where the best tips, advice, and artwork is shown. His email address is bhitney@lonewolf.tierranet.com.
